PHYSICIANS

Are Unanimous in the Opinion that the President Will Recover.

The Danger Line Seems to Have Been Passed and the Nation's Chief is Rapidly Regaining Strength.

Latest Bulletin.

BUFFALO, Sept. 11, 2 A. M.

...The condition of the President is unchanged in all important particulars. His temperature is 100.6, pulse 114, respiration 28.

By Associated Press.

Buffalo, Sept. 10.—The corps of eminent surgeons and physicians in attendance on the wounded President today committed themselves without reservation to the opinion that the President is out of danger. They did not give assurances of his recovery collectively over their signatures as an official bulletin, but individually and separately during the day.

"Of course, we will all feel easier when a week has passed," said Dr. McBurney, dean of the corps. "We would like to see every door locked and double locked, but the danger from possible complications is now very remote."

As an evidence of supreme faith Dr. McBurney, after the morning consultation, made a trip to Niagara Falls and this evening returned to New York. He could reach here again in ten hours if the unexpected should happen and there should be a change for the worse. The little piece of lead in the muscles of the back is giving the physicians no concern whatever. Unless it should prove troublesome later he will probably carry this grim souvenir of the anarchist to the end of his days. The doctors say that once encased it can do no harm. The Vice President and members of the cabinet, Senator Hanna and other distinguished friends of the President, who remained here to wait the issue accepted the verdict of the physicians today as practically conclusive and there was an exodus of those who considered their presence no longer necessary.

Roosevelt left this evening for Oyster Bay, Hanna for Cleveland, Comptroller Dawes, the President's Abner McKinley, the President's brother will remain a few days, but the family has returned home. Mrs. Duncan and several other relatives of the President have gone. Judge Day returned to Canton this afternoon. Five members of the cabinet will still remain for a few days. The President will be taken direct to Washington as soon as it is safe to move him.

Within the sick room many evidences of the President's improvement are apparent.

The President himself began to show confidence in his ability to care for himself and from time to time he carefully turns himself to get a more restful position. It is, however, too early yet to think of his sitting up in bed or any other marked use of his muscles. The important development of the day was the private determination of those in charge of the case that food should be administered to the patient tomorrow by the mouth. Not since the shooting has a morsel of food been given by natural means but the drain on the system has been met by dissolved foods, administered by injection.

The importance of this feeding by the mouth is that it will restore the normal action of the stomach for the first time since that organ was pierced by a bullet on both sides. The doctors are satisfied that the time has come to renew these normal functions and the four days which elapsed since the wounds in the stomach closed give every assurance that the sutures are sufficiently healed to allow nature to resume her sway.

Although the house is fairly embowered in flowers, today sent as tokens of sympathy and gratitude, none of the scented blossoms were taken to the President's chamber. The only persons admitted to the sick room today other than the doctors and attendants were Mrs. McKinley and Secretary Cortelyou. Although the President is pronounced out of danger, no member of the cabinet has yet been within the sick room nor has the Vice President or those close in confidence to the President seen him, but those restrictions are merely for the sake of encouraging every particle of energy in the patient, and relatives and friends alike accept the rigorous policy as decidedly for the best. The dramatic situation here is rapidly disappearing. Plans overthrown by the assassin's bullet are being restored and matters are rapidly assuming normal conditions.

Indiana Day at the Exposition, set for Friday of this week, was indefinitely postponed when the President was shot, but the original program was restored today at the suggestion of Senator Fairbanks. The Exposition has suffered severely in attendance since the tragedy. The managers are now organizing for a great Thanksgiving celebration which they expect not only to prove a great card for the fair, but which they hope may be made a day of national rejoicing.

MAGGIO'S RECORD

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, Sept. 10.—Investigation of the record of Antonio Maggio, the Italian under arrest in New Mexico, who it is said predicted the death of President McKinley, was the leader of a band of anarchists while here two years ago. They met in the rear of his barber shop here and it is said that the "removal" of the President of the United States was the principal subject discussed.

Ed Andrews, manager of the Andrews Opera Co., says that Maggio when with his company, was always arguing anarchistic ideas and predicted an important event to happen before October.

NOT A CLEVELAND PLOT

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, Sept. 10.—The police have utterly failed to connect any Cleveland anarchists in the attempted assassination of President McKinley and they are thoroughly convinced that no plot existed among anarchists, at least in the immediate circle of Leon Czolgosz's friends and relatives.

Repeated calls at Czolgosz's home on Fleet street today by reporters, who sought an interview with the father of the would-be assassin, were without result. All visitors were informed that Czolgosz was not at home. It is learned that Secret Service men are working on the case in Cleveland and that they are trying to locate Paul Czolgosz.

CZOLGOSZ'S BROTHER FOUND

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Sept. 10.—A special says it was discovered today that a brother of Leon Czolgosz is employed at the Diamond Match Works in Barberton, O. He is 31 years of age. He condemns in the strongest possible manner the deed of the assassin and even went so far as to explain with considerable force: "Leon ought to be strung up."

He professes to know nothing of any anarchistic sentiments which Leon possessed. He does not believe that his brother committed the crime from any belief in anarchy, but says he must have been paid for doing it.

PHYSICIANS' BULLETIN

By Associated Press.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Late tonight a slight scare at the Milburn residence was caused by a protracted visit of consulting physicians, who remained almost two hours. This was increased by an announcement in an official bulletin issued just before midnight that a slight irritation of the exterior wound was discovered only tonight and necessitated the opening of a few stitches of the wound. The bulletin follows:

"The condition of the President is unchanged in all important particulars. His temperature is 100.6, pulse 114, respiration 28."

"When the operation was done Friday last, it was noted that the bullet carried with it a short distance beneath the skin a fragment of the President's coat. This foreign matter was of course removed, but a slight irritation of the tissues appeared tonight. It became necessary on account of this slight disturbance to remove a few stitches and partially open the skin of the wound. This incident cannot give rise to other complication but it is communicated to the public as the surgeons in attendance wish to make their bulletins entirely frank. In consequence of this separation of the edges of the surface of the wound the healing of the same may be somewhat delayed. The President is now well enough to begin taking nourishment by the mouth in the form of beef juice and it is now being administered to him."

Entertained the Council.

The City Council in response to an invitation given them last night by the Elk Lodge through Mr. George Stork, an ex-member of the Council, went to the Elk lodge building on Front street last night after Council meeting to examine the new arch recently erected by that lodge in front of their hall.

The Council was accompanied by a reporter from each of the three papers, who were also invited by Mr. Stork and after the party had inspected the arch they were shown through the building, which is one of the finest lodge halls in the State.

After taking a complete tour of the building the party was shown into the dining room where an excellent supper was served to the guests. The President of the Council made a short speech thanking the Elks and Mr. Stork for their kind invitation and hospitality and was followed by speeches from several other members of the Council and Elks.

Everyone had a general good time until eleven o'clock when the guests departed pronouncing the Elks the best entertainers that they had ever had the pleasure of being the guests of and also as well deserving the name of the Best People On Earth.

DEATH

Claims Clerk of Courts, Orlando Trotter.

After a lingering illness which dates back into the early part of the year, Orlando Trotter, Clerk of Courts of Washington county, died Tuesday evening at his home on Fifth street, locomotor ataxia being the cause.

Mr. Trotter would have been fifty-one years of age on the twenty-first day of the present month. He was born and raised in Palmer township, this county, where his father, Richard Trotter, still resides. The deceased taught school in his home neighborhood and also was engaged in the business of farming. In the summer of 1898 he was nominated for Clerk of Courts of Washington county by the Republican convention and was elected to that office in the ensuing November. He served his constituents faithfully and well, but last spring was compelled to retire from the work of the office on account of ill health. Since then he has gradually grown worse, and on Tuesday evening surrounded by his family and friends, the Grim Reaper claimed him for his own. Mr. Trotter leaves a wife and two children, Elmer and Ella, a father, one brother and five sisters.

The funeral services will take place Thursday morning, conducted by Rev. Dr. Cherington, interment at Layman, Palmer township. Mr. Trotter was a consistent Christian gentleman, a member of the M. E. church.

By the death of Mr. Trotter a vacancy is made in the office of Clerk of Courts, which will be filled by appointment for the unexpired term of eleven months by the County Commissioners. At the Republican county Convention held this summer, Mr. Trotter was renominated, but a few weeks ago he withdrew on account of ill health and the vacancy on the ticket was filled by the appointment of his son, Elmer, by the Republican Executive committee. It is probable that the County Commissioners will also appoint the son to the vacancy in the office.

Common Pleas Court.

F. R. Rose and James Rose filed suit for a restraining order against P. D. and Amanda Howler in the Common Pleas Court yesterday.

The plaintiffs have an oil lease in Aurelius Township and to operate a part of this lease it is necessary to use a certain roadway leading past the defendant's house.

The plaintiffs ask the Court to enjoin the defendants from obstructing the roadway and thus hindering their operation of the lease.

Mrs. James Campbell.

Mrs. James Campbell died at her home in Norwood Monday afternoon after a ten days' illness of typhoid fever. Mrs. Campbell was 25 years of age and leaves a husband and two children. The funeral services will be held this morning at nine o'clock with interment at Fifteen.

BROKE DOWN

And Wept Did "Queen of Anarchists"

When She was Arrested in Chicago and Taken to Police Headquarters.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ills., Sept. 10.—Emma Goldman, the "Anarchist Queen," under whose red banner Czolgosz claims he stands, whose words he claims fired his heart and brain to attempt the assassination of President McKinley, was arrested here shortly before noon today.

She disclaimed all but the slightest acquaintance with the President's assistant. She denied absolutely that she or any anarchist she knew was implicated in any plot to kill the President. She said she believed that Czolgosz acted entirely on his own responsibility and that he never claimed to have been inspired by her as he is quoted as affirming. The President, she averred, with a yawn was an insignificant being to her, a mere human atom whose life or death was a matter of supreme indifference to her or to any other anarchist.

Czolgosz act was foolish, yet, she declared, it probably had its inspiration in the misery which the Pole had seen about him. Violence, she said, is not a tenet in the faith of the anarchists, and she had not advocated it in Cleveland where Czolgosz said he heard her, nor elsewhere.

Miss Goldman arrived here Sunday morning from St. Louis. She told amid laughter of her capture today. In her conversation only once did she break down completely. That was when Captain Schnettler led her from the office of Chief of Police O'Neill to the cab waiting to convey her to the woman's annex at the Harrison street police station. For a moment she cried, but the next moment this condition of distress was over. She said her purpose in coming here had been to help three anarchists arrested here several days ago. She intended to give herself up to the police but delayed it until the police had taken the matter in their own hands. She is held on a warrant sworn out by Captain Colleran, charging her with conspiracy to murder the President. As her co-conspirators are named the anarchists already in jail here. She will be taken before a magistrate tomorrow. It is expected that the city will ask for a continuance of the case pending advices from Buffalo.

"I shall insist upon an immediate hearing," she said. "They want me to go to New York without requisition papers, but I will not go. I know legal ropes, I'll make them fight every step, and I'm not afraid at that."

A message from Chief Bull, of Buffalo asserts that Czolgosz was in Chicago August 18 in company with Emma Goldman and Abraham Isaacs. Isaacs and Miss Goldman claim that they took in trying to involve an anarchist, at whose home Miss Goldman was captured, was arrested later.

EMMA GOLDMAN TALKS.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ills., Sept. 10.—Emma Goldman, when interviewed regarding her arrest, said that she arrived in Chicago Sunday and had been shopping since, had even passed the police headquarters several times. She said she wrote to Messrs. Havel and Norris from St. Louis Friday that she was coming and that the police could have secured such information and letters at 515 Carroll street. She said that the police were very much in disrepute over the course they took in trying to evolve an anarchist plot.

Of Czolgosz, she said she feels that he was unfortunate and driven by despair and misery to commit the deed. She feels very deeply for him and would if financially able help by all the means in her power. She said she liked to fool the police and that is the reason she had not given herself up long ago. She says she could have gone to Canada but had no idea of running away. She was waiting for an opportunity for announcing herself and helping the family of Isaac who was arrested. She could not see why people made more fuss about the President than about anyone else.

She was born in St. Petersburg, and at the age of 32 years came to the United States with a sister, who is now in Rochester, N. Y. She came from the middle class of Russians and has always sympathized with the lower classes.

She says the injustice of the Haymarket prosecution made an anarchist of her.

LUCY PARSONS INTERVIEWED.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ills., Sept. 10.—Lucy Parsons was seen by a reporter at her home on North Troy street this afternoon and told of the arrest of Emma Goldman. She admitted that she knew several anarchists who were arrested. She said she met Miss Goldman, while on a lecture tour, at Philadelphia in 1887. She declared that for several years she had held aloof from active circles of anarchy and expressed the greatest pleasure that President McKinley would undoubtedly survive.

Mrs. Parsons declared Czolgosz as undeniably a lunatic. She was sure that he was connected in no way with persons under arrest in this city. She never met Czolgosz and could not think what could be his object in shooting President McKinley, declaring that nothing could be gained by the wanton assassination of the President. "It is trusts," she said, "with whom anarchists should contend and not with the President of this nation as he has nothing to do with the increased prices of necessities of life," which she declared was due to the manipulation of prices by combinations of capital.

She is the widow of Albert R. Parsons, who was convicted of complicity in the conspiracy which had its culmination in the Haymarket riots in Chicago and who was hanged there.

BRYAN

Favors Strong Punishment for Czolgosz.

By Associated Press.

Buffalo, Sept. 10.—Wm. J. Bryan telegraphed the Times as follows:

"Free governments may be overthrown, but they cannot be reformed by those who violate the commandment: 'Thou shalt not kill.'"

Under a government like ours every wrong can be remedied by the laws and the laws are in the hands of the people themselves. Anarchy can be neither excused nor tolerated here. The punishment administered to the would-be assassin and to his co-conspirators, if he has any, should be such as to warn all inclined to anarchy that this is an inhospitable place for those who raise their hands against all forms of government."

Slow Collections Caused It.

By Associated Press.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—C. A. Weldon, secretary and treasurer of the Weldon Grocery Co., was appointed receiver of that corporation today. It has a capital stock of $400,000 and operates 17 stores in this city and vicinity. Assets and liabilities are $135,000 each. Slow collections caused the failure.
